READ THIS BEFORE SIGNING

In accordance with Douglas County Code 12.04.050H, if the application is successful, the undersigned applicant agrees to pay for Douglas County’s costs associated with the installation and fabrication of all public road name signage that will be required to implement the new road name. Updating any signage located along a private road that is beyond the intersection with the public road will be the responsibility of the applicant. If the road intersects with State Right of Way, the applicant will need to coordinate sign installation directly with the Washington State Department of Transportation.
