Five members serve on the Boundary Review Board for Douglas County. Two members are appointed by the Governor, one by the mayors of the cities and towns in Douglas County, one by the Douglas County Board of Commissioners and one by the special purpose districts.

Requirements for the Boundary Review Board members include attending all the regular monthly meetings held on the fourth Thursday of each month, at a time agreed to by Board members, when there is business before the Board, as well as attending public hearings and special meetings held about six to eight times a year, some of which may be held in the evenings. Board members must also be able to evaluate technical planning and environmental documents and economic reports as well as testimony from the public to make their decisions. Board members receive $50 per meeting and mileage for travel to meetings.
